

AN... EDUCATIONAL END OF HOLIDAY

Bright days, enthusiastic teenagers and eager to further their knowledge, multiple cultural-artistic activities, competitions, trips would represent the succinct description of the five-day educational camp of the “Centres of socio-professional inclusion for teenagers at risk”, project conducted by the Prahova County Scholar Inspectorate along with the Apollo Resources Centre association and with the Romers Rettigheter organization, Norway.

For two weeks, in a series of five days, 250 beneficiary students, of the five scholar units from Prahova involved in the project (“Elie Radu” Technical College Ploiesti, “Gheorghe Ionescu Sisești” Agricultural College Valea Calugareasca, “Toma N. Socolescu” Technical College Ploiesti, Technological College Maneciu, “Tase Dumitrescu” Technological College Mizil), were in Bran, Brasov County.

The programme was dense, the 250 students took part in painting, music, dance, theatre classes, showing interest and desire to discover not only themselves but also the other colleagues. The professional counselling sessions with the representatives from the centre “Apollo” stirred the students’ desire to know more about the labour market and about the laws which may come in handy after finishing studies. The trips, the visit to the Bran Castle, the dancing evenings, the campfire from the last night, the “The most talented youngster” and “The most beautiful costume” competitions have animated the time assigned to distractions, but also to imagination and creativity, which the students fully proved.

Therefore, one more successful event of a project dedicated to the teenagers of the Prahova County!
